To support our global Team, we are hiring a full-time

Presentation Designer (m/f/d)
based in London

We are looking for a presentation designer to take our presentations to the next level.

If you are looking for a new opportunity as a Presentation Designer for a growing and ambitious organisation, then this role is for you. You will work alongside international teams to design and layout impactful presentations and solve problems creatively.

In this role, you are first and foremost a creative communicator who collaborates with partners to transform concepts into compelling visual presentations. Working with colleagues across our key offices, there is an opportunity to raise the bar and influence the standards of our presentation output to design impactful presentations and solve problems creatively.

You would be joining the firm at an exciting stage as we are building up a small but strong global in-house creative services team. We are looking to hire presentation designers and/or senior designers in our main markets with the purpose of increasing and improving the quality of our creative output as well as developing processes to ensure an efficient operation. Given you would join the team from the start, you will be able to make a true and meaningful impact to the work we do. You will report into our Global Traffic Manager based in London.

Key responsibilities:

- Collaborate effectively with team members to bring their strategy to life in brilliant and visually rich presentations
- Effectively communicate complicated ideas in visually compelling and effective ways
- Go-to-person for all presentations within Kekst CNC. These will include internal company presentations as well as external new business and pitch presentations
- Design high-impact PowerPoint presentations: rich in detail, animation, and other high-level design elements
- Responsible for setting and raising the standards of all Kekst CNC internal and external presentations
- Actively own and maintain Kekst CNC presentation standards and templates, and advocate best practice presentation techniques across the firm
- Coach users to establish and maintain best practice across the group
- Keep up to date on software, technical knowledge and design trends
- Manage and execute multiple projects at once, efficiently meeting deadlines
- Ensure all output is on brand and communicated clearly

- Keen eye for detail and consistency that extends to language and proof reading
- Deliver work to agreed time estimates
- Maintain impeccable file management on our company server

What we expect:

- Several years' presentation design experience (agency experience is preferred)
- Excellent knowledge of PowerPoint
- Solid foundation in design fundamentals, layout, colour theory, grids and typography
- Proficient in creating master pages, templates and style sheets
- Knowledge of Creative Suite (Photoshop, InDesign, Illustrator)
- An understanding of animation and how to incorporate it into presentations
- Knowledge of MS Word an advantage
- Proficiency in video editing, a plus
- Portfolio that shows off excellent presentation work
- Fluency of written and spoken English
- Knowledge of a second language is a plus – we work across all major markets
- Being able to distil complex information into simple narratives and high-impact layouts
- Excellent attention to detail
- Client-centric mentality, can-do attitude
- Self-starter who is also able to work effectively as part of a global team
- Ability to think on your feet, work in an agile manner and adjust to changes
- Able to work to tight deadlines when required
- The role is conditional on you having, or obtaining, the right to work in the UK

What we offer:

Kekst CNC offers an inspiring working atmosphere, characterized by the highest level of professionalism in a challenging environment and an open corporate culture. Although you would be based in London, you will be a global team player as you will interact with colleagues all over the globe. In addition to having an impact on the business and influencing the outputs of the Creative Team, we offer a competitive salary, bonus scheme and benefits package.

Please send your application including your portfolio, or any questions related to the role, to the following e-mail address: career-emea@kekstcnc.com

The recruitment process will consist of several steps, such as interviews, business case and reference check. We look forward to your application!
