To support our global Team, we are hiring a full-time

Designer (m/f/d)

We are looking for a passionate and proactive designer to join our growing creative team.

If you're an all-rounder with experience across a range of digital and print channels, then this role is for you. You will work with colleagues across our global offices to create brilliant designs for our communications and marketing campaigns.

You would be joining the firm at an exciting stage, as we build up a small but strong global in-house creative services team. Our ongoing goal is to raise the bar on our output and add real value to our creative offer. Given you would join the team from the start, you will be able to make a true and meaningful impact to the work we do. You will report into our Global Traffic Manager, based in London.

Key responsibilities:

- Hands-on delivery of digital and print designs for client projects and Kekst CNC marketing initiatives: social campaigns, website assets, emails, signage, brochures, image retouching and simple video editing and animation
- Work efficiently across the full lifecycle of creative projects, from the first round of design through to artworking assets
- Manage and maintain the bank of Kekst CNC brand assets
- Collaborate effectively with team members across our global offices to bring campaigns to life
- Work with external partners such as developers and printers to deliver assets that meet agreed specs
- Familiarise yourself with clients' brands to deliver work that meets their creative needs
- Keep up to date on software, technical knowledge and design trends
- Manage and execute multiple projects at once, efficiently meeting deadlines
- Ensure all output is on brand and communicated clearly
- Keen eye for detail and consistency that extends to language and proof reading
- Deliver work to agreed time estimates
- Maintain impeccable file management on our company server

What we expect:

- Several years' design experience at an agency or consultancy
- Excellent knowledge of Creative Suite (Photoshop, InDesign, Illustrator)
- Strong experience of digital and print design channels. The role will be predominantly digital, with some print outputs
- A solid understanding of animation and video, and the ability to make basic edits
- Excellent grasp of design fundamentals, layout, colour theory, grids and typography
- Knowledge of MS PowerPoint is an advantage
- Portfolio that shows off excellent print and digital work
- Fluency of written and spoken English. Knowledge of a second language is a plus – we work across all major markets
- Ability to understand and deliver on creative briefs
- Confident about sharing design knowledge with colleagues, and communicating the thinking behind design solutions
- Excellent attention to detail
- Passion for continuous learning about best design practices
- Solution-focused mentality, can-do attitude
- Self-starter who is also able to work effectively as part of a global team
- Ability to think on your feet, work in an agile manner and adjust to changes
- Able to work to tight deadlines when required

What we offer:

Kekst CNC offers an inspiring working atmosphere, characterized by the highest level of professionalism in a challenging environment and an open corporate culture. Although you would be based in one market, you will be a global team player as you will interact with colleagues all over the world. In addition to having an impact on the business and influencing the outputs of the Creative Team, we offer a competitive salary, bonus scheme and benefits package.

Please send your application, or any questions related to the role, to the following e-mail address: career-emea@kekstcnc.com

The recruitment process will consist of several steps, such as interviews, assessment and reference check.

We look forward to your application!
